

The Goal of the Public Solicitor is to provide timely, available and accessible legal assistance for the public

The Office of the Public Solicitor has constitutional responsibility to provide legal assistance to persons entitled to legal aid: that is those charged with offences that carry a penalty of two years and above. The Office also provides limited civil assistance to eligible clients.

KEY RESULT AREAS

Effective Legal Representation for defendants before the Courts in criminal

Effective legal representation for disadvantaged persons in civil cases

Delivery of legal services to provinces, rural and remote areas

Corporate Service

Public awareness and cross-cutting issues

Shepherd Report implementation for Organisational Development